

the nest

A national child and youth wellbeing project

The Australian Research Alliance for Children and Youth (ARACY)

A national framework to mobilise, align and enable efforts to improve child and youth outcomes at a population level (0 – 24 years)

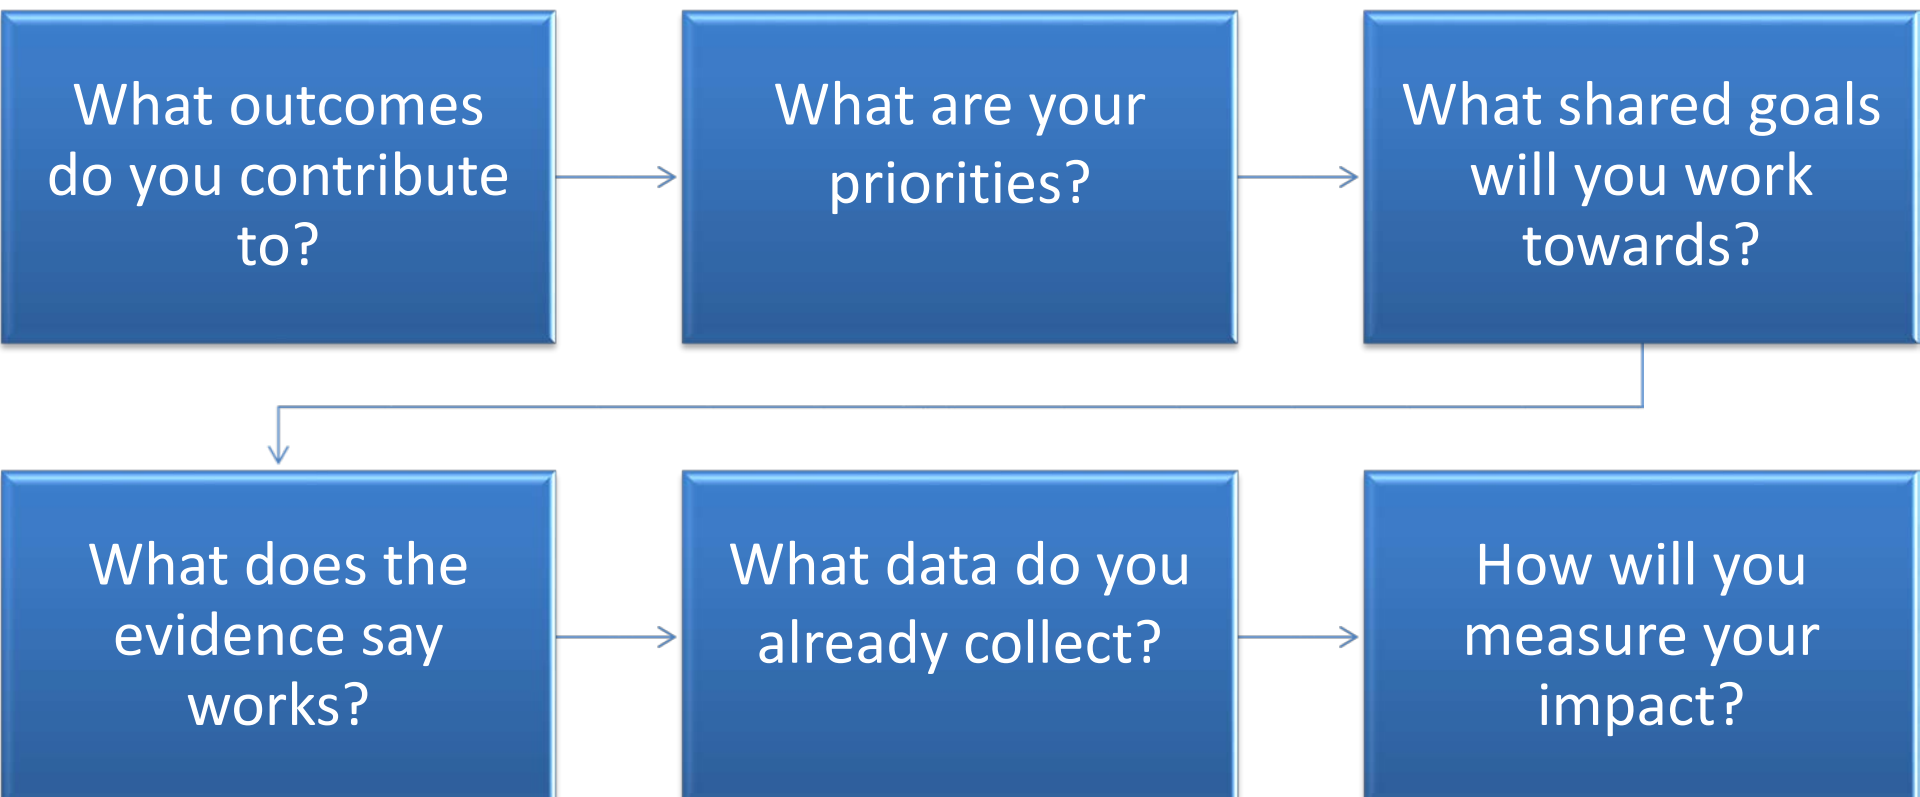

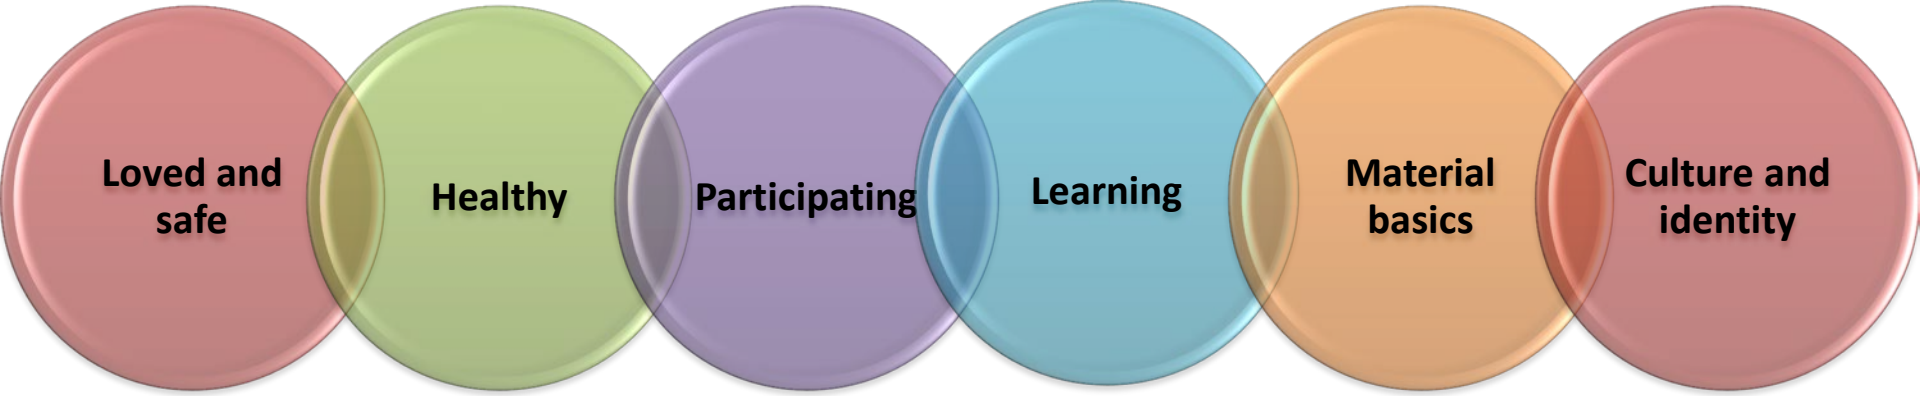

Improving child and youth wellbeing at population levels is a national endeavour involving many sectors over a long timeframe

Co designed with over 5000 children and youth, parents, leading thinkers, researchers, practitioners and advocates

The Nest is an organising framework to mobilise, align and enable the efforts of multiple actors across diverse sectors

- ☐ six overarching outcomes
- ☐ bold goals for action
- ☐ a set of common national indicators
- ☐ some evidence-based priority directions
- ☐ focus on prevention and early intervention

A photograph of a baby sitting on a wooden floor, seen from behind. The baby is wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and is reaching out with their right hand towards a window with white curtains. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting natural light from the window.

ARACY Networks

Early Years Chapter
Longitudinal Studies Network
Prevention Science Network
Knowledge Brokering Network
Parent Engagement Network
Student Wellbeing Action Group